PSJH-CLIN-1207 Policy on Care Through The End of Life: Responding to Requests for Provider-Hastened Death

Executive Sponsor:	Hoda Asmar, MD, Chief Medical Officer
Policy Owner:	Matthew Gonzales, MD, CMO Institute for Human Caring
Contact Person:	Matthew Gonzales, MD, CMO Institute for Human Caring

SCOPE:

This policy applies to all Providers and Caregivers, as defined in the Definitions below, of Providence and its Affiliates<sup>[i]</sup> (collectively known as “Providence” or “Providence Affiliates”).

Yes  No Is this policy applicable to Providence Global Center (PGC) caregivers?

This is a management level policy reviewed and recommended by the Policy Advisory Committee (PAC) to consider for approval by senior leadership which includes vetting by Executive Council with final approval by the President, Chief Executive Officer or appropriate delegate.

VALUES CONTEXT:

Providence holds the well-being of every patient as a whole person at the center of its Mission and Values. We strive to accompany patients and families in a welcoming and compassionate manner. Providence provides care through the end of life grounded in the values of respecting the sacredness of life, providing compassionate care to incurably ill and vulnerable persons, and respecting the integrity of health-care providers.

Providence is committed to providing the best care possible through the end of life to every person we serve. We honor each individual’s inherent dignity and worth. We strive to preserve each patient’s opportunity to live as fully and well as possible in the context of their family and community.

It is our privilege to care for and support people who are seriously ill and facing death with respect and love. The values set forth in the Ethical and Religious Directives for Catholic Health Care Services (“ERDs”) help guide the Providence approach to care.

PURPOSE:

This policy applies the Mission and Values of Providence and the ERDs to the care for people with serious medical conditions that threaten life or are expected to result in death. The policy expresses our commitment to provide patients with the highest quality care and support for patients and their loved ones through the end of life and into bereavement. This policy affirms Providence's stance of providing appropriate care while allowing patients to die naturally of underlying conditions. The policy also affirms that Providence and its Providers and Caregivers will not participate in Provider-Hastened Death as defined below.

This policy will guide a competent, compassionate, and communicative approach to the care of patients who inquire about Provider-Hastened Death and delineates the specific actions that are proscribed by Providence as falling outside the bounds of legitimate clinical care.

DEFINITIONS:

Provider

Provider is defined to include any physician, physician assistant or nurse practitioner who:

(A) (1) is an employee of a Providence Affiliate; and/or (2) provides services to a Providence Affiliate pursuant to a contract with any Providence Affiliate, and/or (3) is a member of the medical and/or allied health staff of any Providence Affiliate; and

(B) while acting within the scope of employment, contract, and/or medical or allied health staff membership for any Providence Affiliate; and

(C) whether (1) at a Providence Affiliate site, or (2) at any other location where a Providence Affiliate provides care or services to patients.

Caregiver

Caregiver is defined to include any non-Provider who:

(A) (1) is an employee of a Providence Affiliate; and/or (2) provides services to a Providence Affiliate pursuant to a contract with any Providence Affiliate; and/or (3) is a volunteer of any Providence Affiliate; and

(B) while acting within the scope of employment, contract, and/or volunteer duties for any Providence Affiliate; and

(C) whether (1) at a Providence Affiliate site, or (2) at any other location where a Providence Affiliate provides care or services to patients.

Provider-Hastened Death

For the purposes of this policy, Provider-Hastened Death refers to actions by a physician, physician assistant, nurse practitioner or any person that are intended to cause the death of a patient as a means to end suffering. These actions include, but are not limited to, prescribing a lethal dose of a drug in which the lethal agent is self-administered for the specific purpose of enabling a patient to end their life. States which have enacted laws or otherwise legalized such actions under specified procedures for people with life-limiting conditions use terms such as Death with Dignity, Medical Aid-in-Dying and End-of-Life Options. Provider-Hastened Death is morally distinct from the withholding and withdrawing of life-support that may result in the foreseen but unintended death of the patient. The term Provider-Hastened Death also encompasses Euthanasia.

Euthanasia

Euthanasia is a form of Provider-Hastened Death in which a physician, physician assistant, nurse practitioner or any person physically administers a lethal drug to another person, usually by injection. Euthanasia is legal for specified conditions and circumstances in Canada and several European countries, but is not currently legal in any U.S. jurisdiction.

Palliative Care

Specialized medical care focused on providing relief from the symptoms, pain, and stress of a serious illness. The goal is to improve quality of life for both the patient and the family. Preferably, palliative care is provided by an interdisciplinary team of physicians, nurses, chaplains, and other specialists who work together with a patient's care team to provide an extra layer of support. It is appropriate at any age and at any stage in a serious illness and can be provided along with curative treatment.

Withholding and/or Withdrawal of Life Sustaining Treatment

This is the process of not beginning or of discontinuing ongoing life-sustaining medical treatments with the purpose of forgoing excessively burdensome or insufficiently beneficial treatment. Under appropriate circumstances, withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining treatment is a part of a plan of care that focuses on care that is proportionate to the condition of the patient and allows death to occur naturally due to an underlying pathology.

POLICY:

1. Essential components of care for people with life-limiting medical conditions and those facing the end of life include clear communication with the individual and (as appropriate) the individual's loved ones, which includes discussion of expected physical and functional outcomes and which allows for shared decision-making to articulate an individual's personal values, preferences, and priorities within an advance care planning document.
2. Providence respects the right of each individual or, at times of incapacity, their health care agent, legal representative, or surrogate decision maker, to make choices without undue influence, including the weighing of benefits and burdens of any treatment, not to begin or to discontinue life-sustaining treatments if the patient/proxy determines that there is no reasonable hope for sufficient benefit or there is excessive burden to themselves or their family or community (cf. ERD 57; Patient Self-Determination Act).

3. Providence strives to treat each individual's pain and other distressing symptoms effectively in a manner consistent with the standard of care with the goal of achieving comfort and enhancing a person's quality of life. Treatment plans will often require multiple modalities, including medications and physical treatments.
4. In light of the wholeness of the human person, a person's suffering often entails elements of one's psychosocial, spiritual, and personal world. As such, comprehensive and compassionate care for seriously ill and dying people deserves access to skillful psychosocial therapies and spiritual support for the person who is ill and their family.
5. Palliative Care is appropriate at any age and at any stage in a serious illness and can be provided along with curative treatment. Specialty palliative care is an important means of providing excellent symptom management, skillful communication to enable shared decision-making and psychosocial counseling and spiritual support. However, these services should be available to patients in need regardless of enrollment in actual palliative care programs.
6. Providence also supports timely referral to hospice as an indispensable service in assuring comprehensive and coordinated interdisciplinary support to patients and families in the final months, weeks, and days of life, through the dying process, and for family grief support.
7. Whatever the source of suffering, Providence seeks to preserve consciousness and responsiveness unless the alleviation of suffering requires treatments that are sedating. When suffering persists at an intolerable level despite all reasonable treatments, consideration of palliative sedation as a reasonable option may be offered even if such therapy may indirectly or unintentionally shorten a person's life. Any party directly involved in the care of a patient may request an ethics consultation if there are moral questions about the appropriateness of this plan of care.
8. In several states within our contemporary practice environments, people with limited life-expectancy have legal avenues for intentionally hastening their deaths (terms include Medical Aid-in-Dying, Death with Dignity, End-of-Life Options). Providence considers intentionally hastening death to fall outside the scope of legitimate medical practice. This determination derives from the Providence Mission and Values and from the Catholic moral tradition. This stance is consistent with leading medical associations, such as the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians, and the National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization.
9. Providence prohibits Providers and Caregivers from encouraging or facilitating Provider-Hastened Death of Providence patients. The specific limits about which Providers and Caregivers must be aware and clearly communicate to their patients are that they are not permitted to: a) complete legally-mandated forms attesting to eligibility for aid in dying, b) prescribe or administer substances intended to hasten a patient's death, c) prescribe or administer medications for the specific purpose of easing the anticipated effects of such lethal substances (e.g., providing a prophylactic anti-emetic to be used as an adjunct with the lethal agent), and/or d) be present when a patient is in the process of being given or actively taking substances intended to cause death. However, Providers and Caregivers must not actively obstruct eligible patients from discussing, exploring, or pursuing legal avenues to hastening death. Within the context of a therapeutic relationship, Providers and Caregivers should discuss with the patient why they may be inquiring about hastened death and what unmet needs there may be. Although Providers and Caregivers are prohibited from participating in Provider-Hastened Death, this restriction must not inadvertently diminish attention to patient's concerns or needs, or result in real or perceived patient abandonment. Instead, in patients' most vulnerable times, Providers and Caregivers should seek to strengthen therapeutic relationships with patients and, better understand the concerns that led to the inquiry.<sup>[iii]</sup>

10. This policy does not replace local or regional policies of Providence Affiliates on the same subject that might include more specific direction for Providers and Caregivers based on the legislation in their respective states. All Providers and Caregivers are expected to be familiar with and comply with any relevant policies regarding Provider-Hastened Death within or applicable to the Providence Affiliate(s) in which they serve. Any such policies should be consistent with this policy. If significant discrepancies exist, a review by the regional ethicist should be initiated. Providence shall provide Providers and Caregivers a copy of the applicable policy.
11. Providence recognizes an important distinction between administration of medications intended to cause death and the Withholding and/or Withdrawing of Life-Sustaining Treatments (e.g. mechanical ventilation, ECMO, intravenous vasopressors, renal dialysis, etc.). Whenever in the patient's (or the surrogate decision maker's) judgment the potential benefit of a treatment is outweighed by the perceived burden, such choices will typically be honored in accordance with applicable Providence and regional policies and the patient's advance directive (if available).
12. Providers and Caregivers are provided with the document, "Responding to Questions about Provider-Hastened Death: A Toolkit." (Link) This Toolkit contains important information about engaging in conversations with patients and residents who inquire about Provider-Hastened Death. Managers and Directors are also encouraged to make use of the document, "Provider-Hastened Death: Operational Guidelines for Caregivers." (Link) The Operational Guidelines provide practical guidance to front-line caregivers who encounter questions about Provider Hastened Death from patients or loved ones.
