

Radiation Emergency

IMMEDIATELY ➤ Remove personnel ➤ Secure area ➤ Call for help

Medical emergencies and injuries take priority –

Call 9-1-1 immediately

24-hour Radiation Emergency Line:

206 - N U C L E A R 206-682-5327

Have this information ready:

- Your name, organization or company, and phone number.
- Phone number and contact person at the scene or facility.
- Location and description of incident.
- Is the event ongoing or over?
- Is there an immediate life-threatening situation?
- Report the number, condition, and location of the injured.
- Radioactive materials involved and the quantity.
- Any local officials that have been notified: radiation safety officer, police, fire, ambulance, hazardous materials experts.

Office of Radiation Protection • Division of Environmental Public Health

Washington State requires licensees to post radiation emergency procedures for employees.

DOH 320-102 May 2014